"Home is where one starts from." –T.S. Eliot

Home is where you start your day. It's also where we return to after a day full of excitement and disappointment, challenges and triumphs, work and everyday life. Our home is our comfort and our shelter and the place where our memories are made.

This home is special. It's harbored many memories and special times since it was built in 1940. It's been lovingly cared for and now it's waiting to continue its story with you.

2000 NC 213 Hwy sits up on a hill, surrounded by nature and bordered by a rambling creek. The interior enjoys an abundance of natural light throughout the day. The home sits on 3.74 acres (according to a 2003 survey) with additional building sites or room for your horses.
